

As seen on www.ivyparisnews.com 19th March 2009

Just another night with Bill.

The pink and red glow from Eric Mircher's gallery last Friday night on rue Saint Claude was garnering plenty of attention. A rock concert in a closet? A fake tattoo parlor with video art projected in the background? And then in the morning, the Saint Claude gallery scene was restored to normality, with white walls, stuff on podiums, and over-size photos.

It's what you'd expect from Bill, a group of event specialists who've been throwing the best parties on the scene in recent months. Be sure to check our site in the coming months when we tip off the next Bill event.

www.ivyparisnews.com/2009/03/just-another-night-with-bill.html